Public Reports

WGEA publishes your Public Report, excluding any personal information, on the Data Explorer. WGEA uses its contents for other purposes in electronic or other formats.

What makes up your Public Report?

Your Public Report consists of 2 documents, which you can generate and download after preparing your submission for lodgement:

- Public Report – Questionnaire
- Public Report – Employee Data Tables

Before lodgement

The Public Report must be:

- given to your CEO or equivalent for review, approval and sign off before lodgement.
- shared in accordance with the Notification and Access requirements under the Workplace Gender Equality Act 2012.

Reporting contacts will be asked to declare in the WGEA Employer Portal that all relevant CEOs or equivalents have signed the Public Report.

For detailed information on the requirements to share the Public Report with your employees, members or shareholders, refer to the online Reporting Guide under Notification and Access requirements.

Gender Equality Standards

If your organisation is a single entity employing 500 or more employees, you must have a policy or strategy in place against each of the 6 Gender Equality Indicators. More information can be found within the online Reporting Guide on Gender Equality Standards.

Gender Equality Targets

If your organisation is an employer that directly employs 500 or more employees, you must select and commit to achieve 3 gender equality targets from a menu of 19 options. At the end of 3 years, you must meet or demonstrate improvement against each selected target. More information can be found on Gender Equality Targets: Frequently Asked Questions.

Workplace overview

Policies and strategies

Employer policies or strategies on workplace gender equality and the composition of the workforce can be powerful levers for making progress and change. Policies or strategies are most effective when supported by evidence-informed action plans to address areas of imbalance and inequality. Similarly, targets are achievable, time-framed goals that create mechanisms for accountability and are effective when combined with dedicated actions to help achieve them.

1.6 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to governing bodies and gender equality in your workplace, do so below.

Tassal is part of a global parent organisation, with governance arrangements such as board composition determined internationally. While local influence over these matters is limited, we remain focused on upholding strong leadership practices and supporting gender equality within our Australian operations.

Action on gender equality

Gender pay gaps

The gender pay gap is the difference in average or median earnings between women and men. It is a measure of how we value the contribution of women and men in the workforce. The gender pay gap is not to be confused with women and men being paid the same for the same, or comparable, job – this is equal pay. Equal pay for equal work is a legal requirement in Australia. However, illegal instances of unequal pay can still be one of the many drivers of the gender pay gap. Closing the gender pay gap is important for Australia's economic future and reflects our aspiration to be an equal and fair society for all.

2.1 Do you have formal policies and/or formal strategies on equal remuneration (pay equity and the gender pay gap) between women and men?

Yes

Policy; Strategy

2.1a Do the formal policies and/or formal strategies include any of the following?

To achieve gender pay equity; Remuneration review processes without gender biases

2.2 Have you conducted analysis to determine if there are remuneration gaps between women and men?

Yes

2.2a What type of gender remuneration gap analysis has been undertaken?

Like-for-like pay gaps analysis which compares the same or similar roles of equal or comparable value to identify unequal pay; Overall gender pay gap analysis to identify the difference between women's and men's average pay and gender composition across the whole organisation

2.2b When was the most recent gender remuneration gap analysis undertaken?

More than 2 years ago but less than 4 years ago

2.2c Did you take any actions as a result of your gender remuneration gap analysis?

Yes

Corrected instances of unequal pay; Identified cause/s of the gaps; Reported results of pay gap analysis to the governing body; Reported results of pay gap analysis to the executive

2.3 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to employer action on pay equity and/or gender remuneration gaps in your workplace, please do so below.

Tassal is committed to fair and equitable remuneration and recognises the importance of addressing pay equity and gender based remuneration differences. We regularly review remuneration outcomes to understand where gender pay gaps may exist and to identify the underlying factors contributing to those gaps. Where remuneration differences have been identified, action has been taken to correct instances of unequal pay and to address the drivers of these outcomes. Findings from gender remuneration gap analyses are reported to the executive team and governing body to support informed decision making and accountability. Using unbiased remuneration review processes and ongoing analysis, the organisation seeks to ensure employees performing work of equal or comparable value are remunerated fairly, regardless of gender. We view pay equity as an ongoing area of focus and continue to strengthen our approach to supporting equitable outcomes across the organisation.

Employee consultation

Engaging employees through consultation on gender equality issues helps employers to understand the employee experience and to take meaningful action. Employers can use the information they learn through the consultation process to generate solutions that are practical and relevant to their organisation.

2.4 Have you consulted with employees on issues concerning gender equality in your workplace during the reporting period?

Yes

2.4a How did you consult employees about gender equality in the workplace?

Employee experience survey; Exit interviews

2.4b Who did you consult?

ALL staff

2.5 Do you have formal policies and/or formal strategies in place to ensure employees are consulted and have input on issues concerning gender equality in the workplace?

Yes

2.6 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to employee consultation on gender equality in your workplace, please do so below.

Tassal values employee input and recognises the importance of listening to employees' experiences to inform gender equality outcomes. During the reporting period, employees were consulted on gender equality matters through employee experience surveys and exit interviews, providing opportunities for all staff to share feedback on what is working well and where improvements can be made. Feedback gathered through these channels is used to identify emerging issues, inform policy reviews, and guide workplace improvements. We are committed to ongoing consultation as part of building a respectful, inclusive, and equitable workplace where employees feel heard and supported.

Flexible working arrangements

Flexible working

A flexible working arrangement is an agreement between an employer and an employee to change the standard working arrangement, often through a change to the hours, pattern or location of work. Flexible work is a key enabler of gender equality, helps accommodate an employee’s commitments out of work and has become increasingly important for employers in attracting and retaining diverse and talented employees.

3.1 Do you have a formal policy and/or formal strategy on flexible working arrangements?

Yes

Policy; Strategy

3.1a Do the formal policies and/or formal strategies include any of the following?

A business case for flexibility has been established and endorsed at the leadership level; Leaders are visible role models of flexible working; Flexible working is promoted throughout the organisation; All employees are surveyed on whether they have sufficient flexibility; Reduced hours with full-time pay (e.g. Full time pay but work 4-day week or 9-day fortnight)

3.3 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to flexible working and gender equality in your workplace, please do so below.

At Tassal, we recognise that flexibility looks different across our diverse workforce and operating environments. In frontline areas such as farms, vessels and processing facilities, flexibility is balanced with operational and roster requirements, with leaders encouraged to consider individual circumstances where possible. For corporate and office-based employees, Tassal offers a range of flexible working arrangements, including hybrid and remote working options where appropriate, flexible hours, and leave-based flexibility. Our approach aims to support employee wellbeing, inclusion, and positive work–life balance outcomes across the organisation.

Employee support for parents and carers

Paid parental leave

Parental leave policies are designed to support and protect working parents around the time of childbirth or adoption of a child and when children are young. Some employers offer universally available parental leave policies, offering equal parental leave for all parents, others offer with a distinction between 'primary' and 'secondary' carers. It's important that the policy is available to all parents, irrespective of gender, recognising the equally important role of all parents in caregiving. Gender equal policies help to de-gender the ideal worker and carer norms, which pervade the workplace and reduce opportunities for women to remain in, or re-enter the workforce.
